A number of boats had been collected, and into these the first detacument stepped, after a few encouraging words from their officers. The boats were pulled briskly out into the stream, and made straight for the Bulgarian score, followed by the eager eyes of their com-rades-in-arms. The troops composing this advanced guard were all picked men, and a finer or more soldierly set of fellows could not be seen. Their move-ment was observed from the Bulgarian side. A heavy fire was opened on the boats from the Turkish artillery. The boats pushed gallantly on, however, and as they neared the other shore the Turkish inlantry commenced a vigoroufusilade. Detachment after detacument followed from the Russian side in boats, and as they ran in toward the enemy position they returned the musketry fire with good effect. The Russian batteries

EPH. JOINS THE GANG.

Thirteen Months in the Penitentiary.

He Says He Refused to Commit Perjury.

This morning between 10 and 11 o'clock, Epp. Holland was taken from the County Jail by order of the United States Court and appeared before Judge Swing to receive sentence on the charges upon which he was convicted, viz.: The perpetration of wholesale election frauds at the last October election. T. C. Campbell, Esq., counsel for Holland, accompanied the prisoner, and when the case was called arose and made a strong, vigorous and earnest appeal for elemency on behalf of his client. Mr. Campbell claimed that the defend-ant had given to the United States Distriot Attorney valuable information as to the frauds in question, and upon which information some of the guity ones had been brought to justice. He said that it was a curious commentary on the administration of justice that his crient should suffer the indignity of be-ing compelled to undergo a sentence in the Pentientiary, when the very men who owe their election to honorable po-sitions by fraud are allowed to occupy sitions by fraud are allowed to occupy those positions—some on the Judicial bench, others in the Legislative halls of the State, and other positions of trust and emolument in Hamilton County. These men are going abroad in the air of freedom, are looked up to, honored and caressed, while the man to whom they are indebted for their good fortune is deemed to a telon's cell. good fortune is doomed to a selon's cell. A man, too, was was induced to come to this city to perpetrate the frauds by the telegraphic orders of these honora-ble (?) citizens. Dr. Tibballa, United States Surgeon, continued Mr. Camp-be I, visited Holland in the County Jan and threatened his client that unless he (Holland) would divuige all he knew about the election trauds he (Tibballs) and his friends would use their influence to get him a long term in the peniten-tiary. Mr. Campbell stated further that in conversations both with Gen. Grant and President Hayes those eminent gentiemen had expressed the opinion that the exposure of these election trauds, which had been unearthed mainly by the testimony given by his chent, would have a greater effect upon public opin-ion than would the influence of heavy sentence upon the poor tools who were instrumental in committing them, espe cially as it seemed doubtful whether the really guilty parties who furnished the money which made their accomplish-ment possible, could be successfully prosecuted.

Mr. Campbell closed his remarks with an impassioned and earnest appeal for clemency, when Judge Swing asked the prisoner at the bar if he had any thing

Holland arose, caim though pale, and in a clear, even voice, said: "May it please the Court, I have not much to say, but I will say this. During my confinement in the County Jail I have been shamefully ill-treated, harassed and insuited almost beyond endurance. That jail to me has been a perfect hell on earth. I have been nearly starved. Why, sir, for the last three days all that I have had to eat were a lew crackers I have had to cat were and cold water. The jail officials have resorted to every means in their power and nevrade me. One of Waito annoy and degrade me. One of Wal-lace's bondsmen, Mr. Weatherhead, the druggist, came to me one day with a written statement which he wished me to sign. The statement was in sub-stance that Speriff Wallace had nothing to do with the election frauds last October. Sir, I indignantly refused to sign such a document, for if I had I would have committed the crime of perjury."

Holland resumed his seal, when the Court remarked that he had noticed that the public prints had had a good deal to say in reference to this case, some of them going so far as to attempt to advise him what to do in the premises. While he had a high respect for the press he did not propose to be advised as to the exercise of his judicial func-

WIFE MURDER.

A JEALOUS HUSBAND SHOOTS HIS WIFE

Other Murderous Affrays Last Evening.

John Guertner, for a long time in the employ of Macneal & Urban, safe manufacturers, murdered his wife about 5 corner of Bremen and Liberty streets. He furnished the money, having about a week ago given his wife $49. Of this sum she took $410 and purchased the saloon from a man named Humbrecht.

'clock last evening. Gaertner and his wife on last Saturday opened a saloon at the southwest corner of Bremen and Liberty streets.

The wire, Barbara Gaertner, whose maiden name was Pfaf, had the property assigned to her own name. This imbittered her husband, and a continual quarrel between them was the result. The affair came to a climax when Mrs. Gaertner began taking in boarders, among whom was one named Robert Heile, who worked with Gaertner. The latter was of the opinion that his wife and Heile were too intimate. His jealousy, however, seems to be ill founded, as all who knew Mrs. Gaertner regarded as all who knew Mrs. Gaertner regarded her as strictly virtuous.

Yesterday Gaerther went down town and bought a revolver. He quarreled frequently during the day with his wite and drank considerable liquor in the and drank considerante inqui-various neighboring saloons.

At the above-named time he came home and found his wife sewing a shirt intended for Heile. He told home and found his wife sewing a shirt which was intended for Heile. He told her that she had plenty of time to sew shirts for others, but could not sew any for him. His wife made no reply and went up stairs, her husband following her. Shortly after the barkeeper, Frank-Rebook, heard the report of a pistol and the gry of a woman saring wife and the cry of a woman saying, "I'm shot! I'm shot!" Lieutenant Frank Smith also heard the report and ran up to the house. He broke open the door, which had been barricaded, and found Guertner standing in the room, with a ball cocked pistol pointed at his breast. He threw the man down and wrenched the weapon from him, and then turned to the woman, who was lying on the flor, with a smail round hole in her right breast, from which the blood was issuing in a thick

The woman shook him by the hand, and told him she had her life insured for $1,000, and she wanted the money sent to ner father in Germany. Shortly after she was a corpse. Gaerteier was then locked up in Bremen-street Sta-tion. Here he said: "I have killed my tion. Here he said: "I have killed my wife, and I hope they will not fool with me. I am no Rothschild."

His story to a reporter, who visited him, was as follows:
"My wite's maiden name was Barbara Pfaff. When I married her she was the widow Lebman. She had no children by her first husband or by me. She took my money and bought a saloon, and then wanted to run me off for Heile. She kept lighting me all the time. I bought the pistol to kill myself, and my wife said I was a coward. She said if I wasn't a coward, I would shoot myself, as I said I would, and not stay around where I wasn't wanted. Well, I snot where I wasn't wanted. Well, I snot her, and I wanted to kill myself, but the pistol wouldn't work."

The Coroner was notified, locked up the house, and then had the body of the murdered woman sent to Habig's. Dr. Theodore Wittkamp will make a post-mortem examination. Gaertner, the murderer, was a soldier in Germany for twelve years, and also served in one of the German regiments during the civil war here. He is spoken of as a hard-working man. He was arraigned in the Police Court this morning on a charge of murder. The preliminary examination was postponed to July 3. No bail was taken.

THE KNIFE IN BUCKTOWN.

Alice Alexander was a prisoner has night at nammond-street Station on a charge of cutting with intent to kill Louis Kantz. The latter, who is a car-riage painter, met the frail Alice yeaterday afternoon in a saloon at the corner of Sixth and Culvert streets. Alice was under the influence of liquor and began a quarrel, during wifich she drew a butcher-knife from under her clothes and slashed Kuntz across the head, creating a large and painful, but not dangerous scalp wound.

The charge in the Police Court was changed to that of assault and battery, the injuries of the man being of such a trifling nature to warrant the change. The case will be examined to-morrow. PROBABLY FATAL ASSAULT IN A STABLE. Yesterday afternoon a bloody affray occurred in a stable in the alloy between Central avenue and Pium and Genesee and Court streets. The stable is occipied by several parties, among whom are Michael Holland and Charles Bauman, both pedulers. Holland was attending to his horses, when Bauman, accompanied by Fred. Carson and Gus. Zeiner, entered, and an altercation acces between the first two named. Hol-land was attacked by the three men in concert; he was knocked down, kicked and stamped upon until he became senseless. Bauman then procured a dray-pin and feat the prostrate man un-til fred out. They then ran away. Holland was carried to his home at 290 John treet, and Dr. Muscroft summened.

The injuries were pronounced serious, and it is thought that Holland will die.
The men were arrested last evening and locked up on a cuarge of assault with Carson, whose real name is Schwei-ger, and Zeliner, waose name is Z citie, and Bauman were brouget up belore Judge Wilson this morning and the case continued to July 6. Their bail w.
